

GOVERNOR SENDS CABLE GREETING TO NATION'S HEAD

Declares Hawaii Now Confident
She Will Become Strong
Military Outpost

Congratulations to President Woodrow Wilson upon his reelection were sent to Washington by Governor Lucius E. Pinkham this morning when it became practically certain that the Democratic party had scored a victory. The governor's cable declares that Hawaii now feels sure she will be made the impregnable outpost of the Pacific necessary to insure peace to America. It follows:

"Nov. 10, 1916.
"Woodrow Wilson, President, the White House, Washington.
"We are profoundly thankful that the American people endorse and continue your great and signal efforts for the common good and the security of the nation. Hawaii, the mid-Pacific outpost, now feels she will be made impregnable for the peace and protection of the United States of America."

"LUCIUS E. PINKHAM,
"Governor of Hawaii."
The governor declined to comment upon the election result, but showed his happiness in broad smiles. "We will not boast of what we intend to accomplish," he said "but will act rather than talk."

CHEMISTS FIGHT DYE LEGISLATION; ASK PROBE

[By Associated Press]
NEW YORK, N. Y.—The American Chemical Society, in a conference on the manufacture of dyes, has adopted resolutions to prevent legislation excluding indigo and alizarin from a direct duty of 5 cents a pound. In another set of resolutions the society calls upon the government to learn whether or not American manufacturers can supply the dyes which the Bureau of Engraving and Printing at Washington is getting from Germany. Dr. J. Merritt Matthews asserted the director of the bureau was in favor of buying from American manufacturers, but that he had been unable to obtain the required supply here.

Dr. T. A. Norton of the Department of Commerce, spoke of the enormous developments of the dyestuff industry in this country since the war began and said the American manufacturers are now making three-fourths of the 29,000 tons which was being used in the country in 1913. He thought that by next summer the entire amount would be made here.

GET IT FIRST—NOT LAST

When a cold grips your system it is convincing proof that your condition is weakened—remember that. It is risky indeed to simply trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more serious sickness than any other one thing, while weakening cathartics and stimulating syrups are often depressing and dangerous. The one best treatment for any cold—the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and generate strength to thwart further sickness. Get Scott's first, not last—and insist on the genuine—always free from alcohol and injurious drugs.

Capitol Halls Streaked With Sunshine Today

Wilson is reelected president; the country is safe, and the Democratic party still lives.

So spoke Collector of Internal Revenue John F. Hisey this morning, smiling all over his face at the thought his predictions had come true and that Woodrow Wilson will still reign in Washington.

It is a distinct triumph for not only the Democratic party but for the American people. Hisey added, "and one of the best things of all is the fact that Ohio went for Wilson by a tremendous majority."

From all corners of the capitol sunshine glinted this morning as official after official greeted on reaching headquarters, the depth of their joy being expressed in hearty handshakes.

Bill Jarrett, high sheriff, declined to talk, but admitted that he was happy, happier than he had been in a long time, and Treasurer Charles J. McCarthy left his office every 10 minutes or so to visit a Democratic brother elsewhere in the capitol with whom he had talked things over before the election. Bert Rivenburgh hung over his desk giving a description of Hughes' whiskers, which he himself has seen. To Will Wayne, who hasn't had that privilege, Wade Warren Thayer declared himself happier every minute—this at 10:30 o'clock—and even Louis Medeiros, genial elevator boy, rode his iron cage up and down the shaft with extra gracie ease.

WITH WAR GOING ON FRENCH HOTEL MEN ARE PREPARING FOR TOURISTS

[By Associated Press]
PARIS, France.—The reawakened enterprise of French hotel men is being applied to the preparation of proper accommodations for the Americans they expect to see over here as soon as continental touring is again possible.

American-built hotels in portable sections will be ready to shelter tourists on the battlefield of the Marne as soon as the war zone is opened to general circulation. They are to be erected by a group of French and neutral hotel men.

A Grenoble hotel man is already negotiating for a site in Verdun on which to build a new hotel as soon as German shells get through demolishing the old ones. A committee of businessmen in Meaux is pushing along different projects for the benefit of the battlefield tourists.

Sign posts giving distances between interesting points and the itinerary tourists should follow will soon be erected on all the fields of the seven days' fighting in that region. Commemorative plates will be put up wherever acts of heroism were accomplished, and an illustrated guide book with maps of the battle of the Marne provided for visitors, while information bureaus will be organized in each commune to facilitate visits to interesting places.

"GET MY TEETH FIRST" CRIES WOMAN PINNED UNDER AUTOMOBILE

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Mrs. Norris Murphy of Carmel was crossing a street in that village with two grandchildren, when she was bowled over and dragged several feet by an automobile driven by M. W. Smalley. She was wedged under the car, but when Smalley attempted to free her, she said: "Get my teeth first."
Smalley looked around until he found the missing set and handed it to her.
"Now get my glasses and my purse," she directed.
These were recovered, and then the injured woman directed Smalley how to lift the car so she could free her right shoulder. She was removed to her home and physicians found she had been almost scalped and was suffering from internal injuries.

How Electoral Vote Stands; Latest News

The table below gives the standing of the electoral votes compiled on latest information. Of the four states in the doubtful column, Minnesota and West Virginia are likely to go for Hughes, New Hampshire may go either way, and New Mexico will probably be for Wilson when the final count is made. If all should go for Hughes he would not have enough for a majority.

California and North Dakota are the two Wilson states which are so close that a recount might possibly reverse the situation and put them in the Hughes column.

TEXAS BULL IS CHAMPION

[By Associated Press]
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina.—The Argentine Rural Society celebrated its fiftieth anniversary with the recent annual cattle show at Palermo, which was favored by fine weather and good prices. For the first time American citizens acted as judges of the blood stock shown. The shorthorn bull, "Camp Hero," bred in this country by Senor Pedro T. Pages, was given the championship, but the animal was not placed on sale, the owner choosing to retain it for stud purposes. The reserve champion Durham was disposed of for $50,000 paper and another animal of the same category brought $55,000. More sensational sales have been witnessed, but considering present conditions the recent show gave decisive proof of the republic's financial stability and confidence in the future of the grazing industry.

MY BANK ACCOUNT

My bank account is very slim
Sometimes there is no balance there,
But there are shoes on little Jim
And ribbons gay in Sylvia's hair,
And there's a smile on mother's face
And happiness around the place,
And if the laughter only stays
The cash can do its several ways.
I put my money into smiles
And cakes and sweets and little gowns
And dresses in the latest styles
And anything to scatter frowns.
And the it doesn't show in gold
That can be used when I am old,
It's drawing interest every day
In laughter and in childish play.

SENATE AND HOUSE ARE DEMOCRATIC, BUT BY BARE MAJORITIES

Revised returns at midnight show that the president will have 215 Democratic supporters in the house, with one independent and one Socialist who will probably vote with the Democrats on party measures.

Opposed will be 211 straight Republicans, with one Progressive and one Progressive-Protectionist.

There are three congressional districts so evenly divided in the returns to date that they cannot be classified, but if the final stand as the vote indicates the Democrats will gain one more seat and the Republicans two, leaving the house divided, Democrats 217, Republicans 215.

There will be one woman in the house, the first woman ever elected to congress. This is Miss Jeanette Rankin, Republican, who has been elected from Montana.

SCOTCH AND SODA BRINGS HIGH PRICE IN THIRSTY SWEDEN

[By Associated Press]
STOCKHOLM, Sweden.—Great Britain's export prohibition on whiskey has moved Swedish dealers to take account of their stocks, with the result that they have found that six months more will about see the end of the available supply.

In no first class restaurant in Stockholm can whisky-and-soda be had for less than one crown, or about 28 1/2 cents at the present exchange rate. Some places charge as much as 1.30 crowns or 36 cents.

High grade liquors—particularly certain brands manufactured by monks—are scarce and dear. The same is true of French cognac and French wines, which have increased wholesale from 25 to 40 per cent. This is due in large part to a scarcity of bottles, not only in the countries of origin but also in the diminished capacity of Swedish glass makers, since a great part of the liquors and wines imported is brought in Swedish bottles.

No shortage of Swedish punch, the so-called national drink, threatens. It may become necessary, however, to drink in November and December some punch not properly aged, on account of the difficulty the manufacturers experience in getting sufficient sugar.

THE PRODIGAL GIRL

We all have a soul for the prodigal boy
Who was caught in sin's mad whirl,
And we welcome him back with songs
of joy.
But what of the prodigal girl?
But what of the girl that has gone astray,
Who has lost in the battle with sin?
Say—do we forgive in the same sweet way
We are always forgiving him?
Does the door stand ajar as if to say:
"Come, enter, you need not fear,
I've not been closed since you went away,
And I welcome you back, my dear."
Or, with a hand of hellish pride,
Do we close and bolt the door,
And swear while heaven and earth abide,
She shall enter here no more?
Just think, it seems we'll never learn
The lesson taught in the sand,
For even yet the woman is spurned
And stoned in a Christian land.
Down in the slough we hurl her back,
Then turn from her with a frown;
We welcome the boy from the sinful track,
Though his fault has cast her down.
